THE AWFUL DAD.

We have another hit of the piav in the very rich acting of Mr. Wallack as an English Barrister addressing a jury for his injured ceiont. Yet he does not remind you of Burfuz, but rather of a man of note, and that style of coquence which a clever pleader uses belove an English jury.

No one without the thousand little elegances of expression and manner which only Lester Wallack has could begin to play the part as well.—Correspondence Cincinnat Enquiror.
